Dear brothers and sisters,

Welcome to our newsletter FYI. This is a summer with wonderful international gatherings ahead of us: the European gathering in Poland. Zone 3 & Zone 4 are organizing their respective zone meetings together with a Family and Youth gathering. The Gathering of the Americas in Colombia will follow up soon, having as it's main content everything around the kejiwaan. Even the organizational parts will be looked at from this perspective. A strong presence of the wings will support members in exploring the possibilities of putting the latihan into practice at both gatherings.

One of the responsibilities of the World Subud Council (WSC) is to implement the resolutions and recommendations from World Congress. The zone meetings in Poland will focus - besides the important topics specific to their zones - on these resolutions and recommendations.

We would like to draw your attention to a specific recommendation, presented by Subud Italy on behalf of the Zone 3. To implement this recommendation, give it life and reality, it needs the support and effort from all members. We would like to come into a dialogue with you during the European gathering in Poland as well as at the America's Gathering in Colombia. You can read and download the complete recommendation here (https://gallery.mailchimp.com/e1e5ced84e76d27e58e4a3244/files/Proposal_presented_by_SUBUD_ITALY_on_behalf_of_the_Zone_3.pdf), and the complete list of all recommendations and resolutions from the 14th World Congress here (https://gallery.mailchimp.com/e1e5ced84e76d27e58e4a3244/files/Copy_of_Summary_Props.Res_VotedPassed.ENG.01.pdf).

We will take your input from these meetings and gatherings to the meeting of the World Subud Council in Spain in September.

Please be sure to add "wsa@subud.org" to your email contact list (this helps to distinguish email sent from this address as "friendly"). If you are not yet signed up, you may do so here.

With love to you all & looking forward to meeting you in Poland, Colombia, and Spain"

'On the Development of Subud in the World'

Proposal presented by SUBUD ITALY on behalf of the Zone 3 to the 14th World Congress in Puebla and resolved by the World Congress as recommendation for the World Subud Council:

"We resolve that our international Subud organization, and especially the helpers, pay more attention to the outer development of Subud in line with Bapak's constant encouragement to make the latihan 'visible' in the world through working together on projects and enterprises; that we look at ways in which our organization at every level can help members to discover their talents and share their skills and expertise to work together to put this into practice." Subud in the Digital Age

Ismanah Schulze-Vorberg

The digital tools we have at our service require a review of our policies and procedures. Many new questions arise:

How do the internet and social media and it's accompanying technologies support the aims of Subud, the collaboration with each other and working together? How does it help us to communicate better - both on national and international level?

And what are the challenges, even dangers that these technologies bring with them to our international, national and local organizations? To individual members?

The challenges can be of a very practical nature: how do we preserve all the hundreds and thousands of digital born documents? What does this mean for the WSA Archives, for the storing of important information created in the digital era?

On the other hand, there are very troubling prospects ahead: the different fundamentalistic religious movements are uprising all over the world. Hate, fear and little to no understanding for other religious beliefs than their own, is spreading at an incredible speed among people of various religious groups. Fear mongering is widely spread and used to reach power.

What does this mean for the Subud organization in general and for members in particular? Besides our responsibility to put the latihan into practice with our understanding and love for other cultures and religions; we also need to protect the good name of Subud and the safety of Subud members living in countries with this kind of turmoil.

We all know what can happen if extracts or quotes are used out of context, brought into a different context than that meant by who spoke them. I assume that many of us have examples of our own experience with this. Picking out parts of Bapak's or Ibu's words could be used to underline our own points of view.

We need to come into a dialogue and mutual understanding about this topic and its implications:
"Subud and the digital era"

What do you think about posting talks online in Facebook and on the internet in the face of the current happenings in the world? What does Bapak's and Ibu Rahayu's recommendation to make talks only available to Subud members mean to you? How do we view the importance to understand these talks as explanations but not as rules? And last but not least: many quotes only get their real understanding if read in the context of the complete talk where they come from, what is your experience?

So where are the red and green lines, how do we deal with this? An adapted policy is needed. The development and application of shared principles, decision-making procedures, and good governance applied to the use of these technologies and communication channels are necessary.

For the WSA Executive, our guidelines are based on the following:

- protect the good name of Subud
- comply with the copyright responsibilities of WSA
- respect Bapak's and Ibu's advice to make them available for Subud members
- respect Ibu Rahayu's advice and wish not to publish openly online in the internet and on social media (like Facebook and YouTube).
- protect the safety of members in politically difficult countries

We are more than happy to have as many members as possible reading (or listening) to Bapak's and Ibu's talks. So circulating within Subud members (email, listservers) is of course part of fair use. What we are asking is that whenever a talk or an excerpt is published in a book, a newsletter (openly online), this needs our written consent and quoting needs to be done in an advised manner.

Talks openly available on Facebook (own page, open groups): this is a clear 'pleas do not'. We kindly ask you all to respect that they are „for Subud members“ and Ibu Rahayu's requested not to have them online for the public.

We would like to hear your thoughts and experiences on this!

Our initiative is to raise awareness, to come to a common understanding of this situation and find solutions. Talk to us! Members of the WSA team and the WSC will be present at the European Gathering in Poland and at the America's Gathering in Colombia.

WSA Archive Cilandak

Update

Ashadi Waclik reports

Dear reader,

Following is a brief update from the Cilandak Archives. Rather than recounting all our daily routine (but essential) activities in detail, such as ongoing work of keeping current material stored safely and appropriately, processing new material that is being collected and providing managed access, we highlight some of the non- routine activities that may be of interest:

* Over last Christmas through the generous help of Dahlan Foah, the archives were able to collect the original versions and a full digitised copy of Susila Budhi Dharma being sung in Javanese. This recording was sung by Ibu Sugiarto, who had been asked to sing it due to her good voice and skills to sing the traditional Javanese classical style. This recordings originally came from Lorenzo Music to Lucas Richman and then to Dahlan, who generously donated his time and funds to get these tapes digitised and then sent to the archives for safe keeping **

FROM THE ZONES

SUBUD ZONE 3

Andrea Vivit - the Zone 3 representative - resigns

On the eve of Idul Fitri, the World Subud Association received an email from Andrea Vivit who stated that due to his path within the Catholic church, he could no longer continue with the latihan of Subud and in consequence his position as representative of Zone 3.

Although we understand that this was a decision reached not lightly, we are saddened by this news. Andrea has been a long time Subud member who has been dedicated and willing to serve the brotherhood. We will miss his calm and clear thoughts on many issues that we as a Subud organization have to look at. We pray that his journey is blessed and that someday we will meet again.

SUBUD ZONE 4

National Congress Ukraine
Matyev Maeslov writes

For the organization, we managed to do the necessary preparations for the official re-registration process this year - something we were unable to achieve for the last 9 years due to political turmoil and lack of knowledge, skill and effort. The meetings went smoothly and harmoniously which I attribute to the new committee working together - for my 7 years in Subud Ukraine this was the most peaceful and humane gathering :)

SUSILA DHARMA INTERNATIONAL

Hamida Thomas writes

Dear friends and members of the SD Network,

I would like to say a special thank you to all of you - but particularly the SD Nationals who supported the purchase, transport and setting up of the Brickmaking machine for SD Congo: SD Britain, SD Canada, SD France, SD Netherlands, SD Norway, and the Blond Family and the Buchan Family, as well as all the individual donors to SD in all our countries.

I would also like to thank MSF for helping us to bring Paul Roberge to the Congo, because without him the brick machine would not be working today! Thank you of course to the Subud members and SD team in the DRC - to Dianteza, to Papy, to Innocent, Philbert, Victorine, Sylvain Kidimbu and Kinzunga who have all been working hard to get the machine into the country, through customs and finally to put it into operation. You are all amazing!

The objectives of the project were several, and all are important:

- To provide low-cost, high quality building materials for the schools and health centers that SD Congo is part of developing;
- To provide a source of revenue for SD Congo itself, to cover part of the costs of its operations, so it can continue its important work on behalf of communities in need and in the name of Subud.
- To provide a royalty on the sale of each Brick to support Subud in the DRC, to support helper travel and other costs of the organization.

This story will soon be coming out in our enews, but because the whole process has taken so long, I wanted to share with you right away that the brickmaking machine is now in operation (see photos below). The message from Paul Roberge below written during our recent trip to the DRC explains how long it takes sometimes to get things done there, where everything seems so hard and slow. It is now two years since we started fundraising for this project with SD Canada and SD France in the lead, the machine arrived in the DRC in October 2015, and finally, only in the last month, was released from customs and put into operation. Paul's short article below helps explain, in part, why all of this took so long. The joy on the faces tells the whole story:

Complete Story will be published in the SDIA Newsletter as well as in the WSA Connect eMagazine.

Welcome to the second edition of the new SESI e-news. We hope you will enjoy the new crop of articles on the SESI website, a taste of which follows below. Among other items, the St Anne's team asked for the chance to tell their side of the project's story. There are also two very interesting articles from Indonesia.

A few people experienced some technical difficulties registering on the site first time around. We apologize for that and we believe we've got those issues sorted now. But do be patient with us as we get re-established. We've repeated instructions for registering on the website at the bottom of this email – please take a moment read them through if you are in any doubt or if you weren't able to login last time.

Subud Youth and the Basara International Youth Gathering

by George Demers

How will our children learn if they don't see us fly? How will our children fly if we don't give them the opportunities?

Many, many years ago, when I was a very young man, I came across some words which had a great impact on me at the time. They were - "I am a lover but have yet to find my thing to love" or something similar. I don't remember who wrote them or where they came from, a poem, an essay, a book? The reason they had such an impact on me at that time in my life was because they so perfectly captured how I was feeling - a dawning awareness of great passion within me, a feeling of intensity and the realization that I did not yet know how to express this passion into the world. I hadn't yet found my thing to love.  Continue reading

We are very pleased to finally be able to share our film about SYFA; this is a joint project between SYFA and SICA, that came about when Marius Grose, Mariamah Mount and myself sat around chatting at National Council in March this year. It seemed like a big idea at the time, and we wondered if we would be able to make it happen, and then somehow it just all came together! We will have a higher resolution version to show on big screens in Poland. There are many people to thank for their work in creating this, and you will see their names mentioned at the end of the film.
